Party Mourns Upham's Death

Financial Chief for Twenty Years Succumbs to Long Illness

WELL KNOWN IN CAPITAL

Racine Is Birthplace of Celebrity, Educated at Ripon College

By Associated Press

Chicago.—Death of Frederick W. Upham, for 20 years financial genius of the Republican party and long civic and industrial leader in Chicago, which occurred at Palm Beach Fla., Sunday brought deep regret and sympathetic tributes Monday from Chicago associates, both political and business.

While plans for his funeral were not known definitely here, it was expected services would be held at his Lake shore Drive home next Friday. In a telephone conversation with friends Sunday night Mrs. Upham at Palm Beach requested that friends do not send flowers.

None but a few friends knew that Mr. Upham for the past year had been in failing health. Following the Republican convention at Cleveland last year, he and Mrs. Upham went to the Adirondack mountains before returning to Chicago to allow Mr. Upham to recover from a breakdown. After announcing that he was "back in harness" the former national Republican treasurer was forced to go to Florida last November knowing, it was said, that death was only a matter of short time.

LAWS REGRETS PASSING

"I am very sorry to hear of Fred Upham's death," said Charles G. Dawes, vice president-elect. "I have known him since he first came to Chicago in 1884. He spent his life in the service of others. His death will be mourned by all."

Senator Medill McCormack of Illinois, declaring Mr. Upham's death a great shock, said: "I am greatly grieved over the loss of an old friend. I have known and respected Fred Upham for many years."

Mayor William Dever of Chicago, Roy O. West, secretary of the Republican national party, and others expressed similar feelings. Mr. Upham's friends were legion. There was hardly a man in the country associated in any way with Illinois or national politics who did not call him his friend. He was almost as well known in Washington as the president and for years never missed a Gridiron banquet. In Chicago he seemed to know almost everybody who had anything to do with the industrial and social life of the city.

CLOSE TO HARDING

After President Harding got settled in the White House, Mr. Upham was one of his closest advisors. Visitors to the executive's official residence were shown the door of the room occupied by no one excepting Mr. Upham, his Washington home. President Harding's sudden death was a severe blow to Mr. Upham.

Frederick Upham's beginnings in politics were humble. His first post was an alderman's seat, which he filled one term. Two terms on the board of review followed. He was a protégé of former Mayor Fred A. Busse. It was Busse, in fact, who took a liking to Upham when he came here from Racine, Wis., to enter the lumber business on the north side, just beyond the Chicago river, and pushed him into the limelight. Mr. Upham's own personality and initiative brought political success.

It was not until official Washington began to show an interest in that young Republican in Chicago.

Mr. Upham was made treasurer of the national committee in Feb. 1918. He attended his first national convention in 1922 as a delegate from the Wisconsin district. He was western treasurer of the national committee in the first Taft campaign and in the Hughes campaign of 1916. At the time of his death he was Republican national committeeman for Illinois. By 1923, however, he was looked upon as the best money getter for the party in the country and from that year till the Cleveland convention last year it was an accepted rule that whatever else was done, Upham should be given the task of arranging for the Chicago convention and obtaining the money to finance it.

He turned over the national treasurer's duties to William V. Hodges last June.

Mr. Upham was born in Racine, Wis., Jan. 29, 1861, and was educated at Ripon college.

Chicago Police Seek Son of Capitalist, Husband of Victim

DIES AFTER OPERATION

University of Illinois Sophomore Was Bride of Five Days

Chicago.—Mrs. Lucy Hagenow, a midwife, was taken to a police station Monday for questioning in connection with the death of Nina Ruth Harding Pierce, five-day bride of Logan P. Pierce, who died on Saturday night after an operation.

Police search for Pierce continued. Mrs. Hagenow admitted, said the police, that Mrs. Pierce visited her last Tuesday or Wednesday but denied that she had performed an illegal operation.

Police search for Logan P. Pierce, son of a capitalist continued while a coroner's inquest into the death from an operation of his five-day bride, Mrs. Nina Ruth Harding Pierce, University of Illinois sophomore and daughter of an East St. Louis, Ill., real estate broker was set for Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Pierce died on Saturday night at a hospital to which she was removed from the furnished room to which her husband took her after their marriage. Since Pierce left the hospital the only trace of him was found in telephone messages to a Chicago club and to the rooming house asking about a telegram from his father.

Chambers Logan Pierce, father of the youth, returned to Chicago Sunday night from LaCrosse, Wis., where he had been establishing an industrial loan bank.

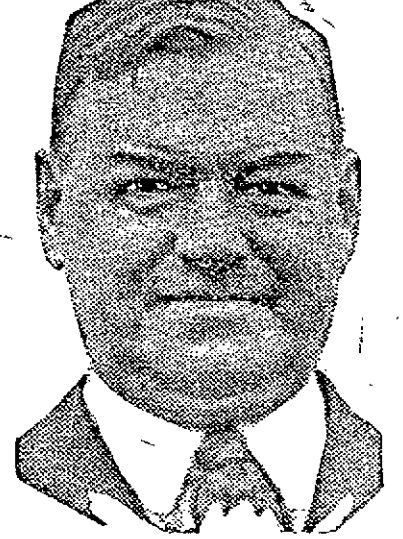

The engagement of Pierce and the Miss Harding was announced a year ago while they were attending college. After Pierce was graduated he came to Chicago to start his business career in a cotton brokerage office.

Miss Harding came to Chicago last Monday from Chicago, Ill., and was standing high in her classes.

A member of the Harding family was reported to have said that the family wished Miss Harding to finish her school work before she was married.

AVIATION ROW BRINGS MATTER BEFORE PUBLIC

Controversy Raised by Mitchell Calls Attention to Problem

BACKED BY INDUSTRIES

Congress Displays Tendency to Keep Dispute Going for Enlightenment

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Back of the controversy raised by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell with respect to the value of airplanes as against battleships is the larger problem of aviation which has had a difficult struggle to get attention during the past five years.

Gen. Mitchell may not have chosen the most tactful way to force the issue but the friends of aviation think he has succeeded in one respect—he has managed to drive the debate into the open and out of the realm of red tape and service prejudices.

HAS BIG FOLLOWING

General Mitchell has been the most active influence in favor of aviation that the army has developed. He has the sympathy of all the commercial concerns interested in aircraft and he has built up a following in congress. It is an unusual situation in many respects for he risks the hostility of his superior officers by contradicting them in the open. The war department, however, is amenable to congress because it must be. Appropriations must come from congress and it so happens that General Mitchell has acquired in recent years a number of friends on the congressional committees. Were it otherwise he would today be detailed away from Washington where he could be silenced. His method of campaigning for the thing in which he is interested is not popular with army and navy officials who insist that an opinion of a subordinate can only be rendered to his superior officer and if the latter disagrees with it that's the end of it. Thus is opinion in the army quashed as a rule by the use of military discipline. Officers who have violated the rule have usually been punished.

Congress will not countenance punishment for General Mitchell but the war department can do many things to silence an officer. After Mar. 4, General Mitchell will probably have to lead a quiet life so far as agitating the aviation problem. It may be that he intends to retire anyhow for there have been reports that he might become a candidate for congress from Wisconsin.

SEEK ENLIGHTENMENT

In both the senate and the house there is a disposition to keep the controversy going so that the members and the country may be enlightened. If battleships are out of date and airplane attack is much more powerful than has been supposed, congress wants to know it. The trouble is the defenders of the battleship fleet will be abandoned some day and they are insisting it should not be made a secondary institution. The advocates of the airplane as a first line of defense concede the usefulness of the battleship. The difficulty is that in service rivalries the airplane and the battleship are considered as alternatives. Instead of ad supplements to each other. This is one of the principal arguments made by the people who contend for a single department of national defense—that all weapons of warfare would then be considered on their merits and combination attack and defense would become paramount.

PARSONS USES LIVE MONKEY TO COMBAT EVOLUTION THEORY

Norfolk, Va.—A monkey, tethered a few feet from the pulpit as an exhibit against the evolution theory, cast quizzical glances over an overflowing congregation in the Park-ave Baptist church here Sunday night while the Rev. Dr. Floyd T. Holland preached a sermon on man or monkey.

The climax for the congregation—and the monkey—came when he was held aloft in the pulpit, a stern finger thrust toward him, and the pastor challenged anybody in the church to stand up and concede common ancestry with the simian.

Nobody stood up. The minister explained that his theme and the live exhibit from the zoo were prompted by the introduction of a bill in the North Carolina legislature to prohibit teaching of the evolution theory in state supported schools.

SAVED BY CANINE WAR HERO, MASTER REPAYS HIS DEBT

Former American Soldier, Wounded in Argonne, Prevents Execution

Chicago.—When Horace Love, torn by machine gun bullets, was waiting for death in no mans land, a dog saved his life. Sunday he saved that dog.

Love, now a student at Northwestern university, was severely wounded while fighting in the Argonne, when the dog, Bolivar, then working for German Red Cross, found him, went back to surgeons and brought them to the stricken man. Later American forces captured the position, and when Love returned to this country he brought Bolivar with him. A bout a month ago Love, with another student, lost Bolivar while exploring the desolate regions of Skokholm valley. For days they searched in vain. Sunday Love, still at his quest, was stopped by a policeman because his automobile lacked a license tag. At a suburban station he explained his search.

"Why we've a dog like that," the sergeant said—"Caught him—it took half a dozen of us—after he had scared folks on the road. He looks half starved; he's scheduled to be shot in the morning."

"You'll have to shoot me first," Love said.

Bolivar was brought in, he was a skeleton. But he cleared the room in one bound and almost felled his master with his joyous assault.

There will be no execution.

Rescuers Find Prisoner Dead After Digging Up to 2.45 P. M.

BURIED FRIDAY JAN. 30

Last Signs of Life Noted When Diggers Hear Groans Friday Feb. 13

Cave City, Ky.—Floyd Collins was reached, found dead at 2:45 Monday afternoon in an official announcement after rescuers had penetrated into what they believed was the original Sand Cave cavern where Collins was caught. No medical examination was made as it was impossible for a physician to reach the victim.

Cave City, Ky.—Floyd Collins was trapped in Sand Cave at 10 o'clock Friday morning, Jan. 30, by the fall of a boulder on his foot. He was exploring the tunnel of an old cavern, the front part of which had collapsed years ago, forming the ravine which leads up to the limestone ledge in which the mouth of Sand Cave is located.

Some time Wednesday night, Feb. 4, he was fed the last time. Early the next day a rescue party heard his cries from behind the cavern for the last time.

His plight remained undiscovered for 24 hours, when, on Saturday, Jan. 31, Jewell Estlin, a young neighbor boy, penetrated Sand Cave far enough to hear his cries for help.

Nichols and his brothers at once began efforts to dig him out and release the rock and dirt which pinioned his legs. All such efforts were unsuccessful, and outside helpers who had cleared away the dirt as far as his knees were blocked by repeated cave-ins in the tunnel, just above Collins. Finally state officials ordered stopped the rescue efforts down the natural tunnel as too dangerous and the shaft rescue plan was started Friday.

In spite of the handicaps of lack of proper tools and material for such a mining operation the work progressed unceasingly until the odor of banana oil sprayed into Collins' cave Sunday night, became unmistakable Tuesday night in the shaft through a sandy layer in the bottom of the shaft just below the 40-foot level.

The natural tunnel down which Collins had crawled in search of a new cavern, was about 125 feet from the surface to the spot where Collins lay. The rescue shaft, started a few feet in front of the natural mouth of the cave in a limestone ledge, was aimed as a perpendicular tube, the shortest line to reach him in the bottom of the tortuous natural tunnel.

Friday, Feb. 13—Earth cracks fomed at fifty feet level, proved impossible after a few feet of penetration. Workmen in shaft and tunnel hear Collins' cough.

Saturday, Feb. 14.—Conversation tests between shaft and tunnel indicates they are only few feet apart. Shaft down 55½ feet at 2:15 P. M. and digging ceases on bottom while plans for lateral tunnel are perfected.

Sunday, Feb. 15—Seven feet of lateral shaft opened and timbered under great difficulty because of soft mud filled with big limestone boulders.

Monday, Feb. 16—Visiting engineers praised shaft as perfect piece of work. Two military physicians added to those who were to resuscitate him. Start work on limestone roof over Collins.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF FAMOUS EDITOR

San Francisco Journalist Dies Two Hours After Operation

By Associated Press

San Francisco, Calif.—M. H. DeYoung, one of the last survivors of the dwindling school of personal journalists in the United States, who built a great newspaper from a theatrical handbill he started on a borrowed $20 gold piece in 1865, died here Sunday night. He was 75 years old. His death was as sudden as many of the events in his spectacular career which made him a national figure.

Early Sunday night he underwent an operation for intestinal trouble. Two hours later he was dead.

Mr. DeYoung was a director of the Associated Press for 25 years. He was the leading figure in the mid-winter exposition in San Francisco in the nineties. He built the first steel frame building in the west, the old Chronicle. He rebuilt it after the San Francisco fire only to abandon it for the most modern newspaper plant in the United States.

He leaves as a monument to his fondness for San Francisco where he spent his best days, the DeYoung Museum in the Golden Gate park.

Funeral arrangements were to be completed Monday.

LAST OF LINCOLN'S NOMINATORS PASSES

By Associated Press

Chicago.—Addison G. Proctor, last of the delegates to the convention in Chicago in 1860, which nominated Abraham Lincoln for the presidency, died here Monday at the age of 87.

Mr. Proctor's death, according to attending physicians, was caused by exhaustion from a series of speeches in various parts of Illinois on and before Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12.

MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED IN FIGHT WITH BROTHER

Appleton Merchants Set For Dollar Day Bargains

Appleton merchants are completing preparations for the host of bargains which they will offer to shoppers of Appleton and vicinity at the semi-annual Dollar Day sale on Wednesday.

Tomorrow the Post-Crescent will carry the bargain announcements of 40 merchants who are cooperating to make this one of the largest sales in the city's history.

Dollar day has become a semi-annual merchandising fixture in Appleton and is looked forward to by buyer and seller. The buyer knows he will receive exceptional bargains and it provides shelves for the new season's stock. Both benefit from the arrangement and therefore it has become exceedingly popular.

Merchants again are asking shoppers to buy early in the day. This will enable them to pick from a larger stock and prevents the tremendous crush in the afternoon, which is characteristic of all big bargain events.

The following 40 merchants are co-operating in Dollar Day:

Cheka Discards Reign Of Terror In Prisons

Moscow.—Russian prison conditions appear to have improved greatly since the terrible days immediately following the Bolshevik revolution, a much less drastic and more humane regime evidently having been adopted in both the criminal and political prisons.

Foreign correspondents at the invitation of the Soviet government Sunday inspected the Cheka prison in Loubianka square, Moscow which was the headquarters of the entire G. P. U. system (state political police) has been the most feared institution in all Russia.

The newspapermen found to their surprise that instead of long rows of dark, cold, iron barred cells, there were newly one hundred large, well-lighted, well-ventilated rooms with such comforts as steam heat, electric light, parquet floors and papered walls, all scrupulously clean.

Eighty political prisoners, 10 percent of them women occupy these rooms.

The prisoners are allowed a pound

VETERAN ENGINEER, SCALDED IN CRASH, SAVES PASSENGERS

Hero Crawls from Wreck to Flag Train Carrying 200 Toward Smashup

By Associated Press

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Louis A. Pruitt, veteran St. Louis-San Francisco railroad engineer, "broke his engine down" when he plunged from the tracks near Kelleysville, Okla., early Sunday. Then he crawled from the wreckage and though half blind by a scalp wound and scalded by live steam he staggered three quarters of a mile along a dark railroad track and flagged a Cisco passenger train before it could crash into the wreckage of his locomotive and the freight cars behind it.

Then Pruitt attempted to return to the wrecked freight train to give aid to A. W. Corley, fireman, and R. A. Kuhl, head brakeman. The two trainmen, residents of Oklahoma City, were found dead. Pruitt was rushed to a hospital in Sapulpa.

The passenger train flagged by Pruitt was the Governor, the St. Louis-Oklahoma City train.

It carried 200 passengers. Pruitt has been in the employ of the Pisco for 30 years, according to railroad officials here. Twelve cars of merchandise and 8 cars of gasoline piled up in the ditch along the right of way were destroyed by a fire. A defective switch is held responsible for the wreck. The damage is estimated at about $200,000.

BLAME POOR WIRING FOR SUMMER BLAZE

Oakbrook.—The summer home of E. J. Lansing, Milwaukee, on Lake Butte des Morts, was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon presumably from electric wiring, connected with an equipment used for charging the storage battery which operated the lighting system. The loss is estimated at $18,000 to $20,000.

MARSHFIELD PAIR IS FINED IN LONG TRIAL

Milwaukee.—Major Robert Connor, lumberman of Marshfield, was fined $1,000, and his wife was fined $100 in court here Monday on statutory charges. The sentence is the culmination of a long drawn out case.

CROOKED EMPLOYEE ROBS FARM WHILE OWNER IS AWAY

William Bies Almost Ruined
When He Visits Mother in Little Chute

When William Bies was called to his old home at Little Chute recently because of the illness and death of his mother, he became almost a ruined man because of the unfaithfulness of a hired man he left in charge of his farm at Swift Current, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Word received by his brother, Peter Bies, route 1, Little Chute, indicates that his farm was stripped of a large amount of grain and personal property and that his cattle were in such condition they had to be killed.

BITTERS RECEIVED HIM

William Bies left Little Chute about 15 years ago to take up a homestead in Canada and he now owns 480 acres which he devoted to grain farming. He left the farm in charge of his hired man so he could go to Little Chute when his mother became ill. He remained there for about six weeks during which his mother died, outraging reports were conveyed him in letters received from the hired man, who told him there was no need to hurry home.

A telegram had been sent to Mr. Bies by the storekeeper with whom he did business at Swift Current, telling him that his farm was being robbed. Delivery of the message was delayed for ten days for some reason. The farmer had intended to spend the entire winter here but left at once when the message reached him.

HAULED EVERYTHING AWAY
Employing several men and teams, the hired man had hauled away and sold $4,000 worth of stored crops and personal property of the farm, according to discoveries made by Mr. Bies. The cattle had been neglected so long they had to be slaughtered. The hired man was missing but was located and arrested after a 5-day search. All he had left of the proceeds of his sales was $4. The court was lenient with the thief because he was a former soldier and gave him a 6-month jail sentence after he had pleaded guilty to the offense.

APPLETON GIRL ON DEBATE TEAM AT OSHKOSH NORMAL

Miss Erna Gosse of Appleton was a member of the Oshkosh normal school girls debate team that won first place in a triangular debate Tuesday evening, participated in by the normal school, Carroll college and Milton college. Oshkosh defeated Carroll at Oshkosh 3 to 0; Milton defeated Oshkosh at Milton 2 to 1; Carroll defeated Milton at Milton 2 to 1. This gave Oshkosh first place with four points.

The question for debate was: Resolved, that Congress should be given the right by a constitutional amendment to override by a two-thirds vote in both houses laws declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. The same question will be debated by girls' debate teams of nine normal schools on Mar. 6.

All Kinds Of Training For Ambitious Folks At Appleton Trade School

Citizens of Appleton and this vicinity can secure thorough training in almost any work or profession they desire to pursue at Appleton Vocational school or under its direct supervision, according to information at the school. More than 25 separate courses, ranging from oil and china painting to industrial and commercial subjects are taught in the school and provisions are made to teach anything from barbering to taxidermy anything which the student can desire by special teachers outside the school but under its supervision.

Trades in which training is required but which cannot be furnished at the school, such as especially skilled professions which do not attract a large number of students are taken care of by a type of trade extension work. A teacher at the school for one or two boys would be out of the question, but the Smith-Hughes law provides for federal aid to place the boys in an industry or shop to pursue the course they desire. The employer or craftsman under whom they work is paid for the time that he spends in instructing them, provided the instruction is given at regular periods and a report is made to the school. This offer is made only in cases where a skilled or worthwhile trade is being learned.

TWO STUDENTS HERE
The reason for this outside trade work is that many boys go for years without organized instruction or training in the work they desire and are compelled to pick up what they can, because regular classes cannot be held for one student. This is the boy's greatest opportunity to learn and the craftsman who does the instructing is considered a member of the school faculty. He must instruct the same number of hours or the equivalent to a shop course. At the present time an Appleton barber and a local jeweler are being paid by the government for teaching two local boys trades which they desire to follow, but would have no opportunity to learn if it were not for the trade extension work.

Another field in which the local school is doing considerable work is known as "adult specials." Twelve adults are taking special full-time work in practically every course offered at certain times during the week. Any man not steadily employed can take advantage of this opportunity. General subjects related to trade are taught and the workingman can get anything he desires. The adult student can get more from day-time work than night school and the vocational school will take care of the needs of more who enroll.

The total enrollment at Appleton Vocational school for the second semester in night and day school classes, is 936, of whom 602 attend night school. There are more women than men enrolled, the proportions being 361 girls and 241 boys attending night school classes and 190 girls and 144 boys in the day school. Part of this is due to the fact that the boys more often are employed.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN
Sewing attracts the largest number of girls at the evening classes, 164, nearly one half of the total evening enrollment for girls. English for foreigners and cabinet making are the principal attractions for the men. Night school students are divided as follows: citizenship 14 men and 2 women; English for foreigners, 43 men and 25 women; show card writing, 8 men and 4 women; poultry breeding, 12 men; penmanship, 2 men and 3 women; china painting, 17 women; oil painting, 10 women; basketry, 14 women; home nursing, 10 women; arithmetic, 4 men and 6 women; shop mathematics and layout, 14 men; bookkeeping, 3 men and 9 women; shorthand, 4 women; type writing, 12 men and 23 women; electrical and radio, 10 men each; cabinet making, 37 men; machine shop, 15 men; millinery, 17 women; sewing, 164 women; cooking, 30 women; business English, 9 women; accounting, 9 men and 4 women; foremanship training, 4 men.

Day school classes are divided into three distinct groups, part-time, half-time and full-time students. Part-time students spend one day a week at the vocational school. The law requires only eight hours attendance per week on the part of this group. Half-time students are required to attend a full week, every other week. Full-time student attend school every day as in the regular school system. Apprentices in various trades attend school only a half day per week. Of the 144 boys attending, 10 are apprentices, 38 are half-timers and 96 part-timers. Sixty-two girls attend half time and 128 attend part time. Half-time boys include 15 cabinet makers, 16 machine shop workers, and 7 printers. Of the part-time boys 32 are cabinet makers; 33 are machine shop workers; 8 printers; 15 electrical workers; 6 motor winders; 1 draftsman and 5 commercial workers. Of the half-time girls, 29 are taking a commercial course and 33 study household arts. Part-time girls include 39 commercial students and 89 in the household arts department. All academic work is on a part-time basis.

Eighteen regular teachers are employed and thirty take charge of the night school classes. Beside these, eight are employed in ward extension work at night and several trade extension teachers complete the faculty. When the itinerant teacher idea is tried out in the Fox river valley in March another type of teacher will be added to the faculty. He will travel in the valley teaching plumbing, a trade extension course, and others of this type may follow for other trades, if the experiment is successful.

Victor Sues and William Bevers are spending the weekend with Chicago friends.

ADD VARIETY OF BOOKS TO NEW LIBRARY SHELF

The "new book" shelf, recently instituted in the college library by Miss Winifred Fehrenkamp, librarian, to permit students and faculty to become more closely familiar with new books, has several new additions.

The books range widely in subject matter and should attract even the reader of fastidious tastes. The subjects vary from history and philosophy, such as "Platonism" and "Roman Private Life" to "How To Dress Well."

The new books include "Essays on Poetry"—Squire, "How To Dress Well"—Strong, "Some Impressions of My Elders"—St. John Ervine, "The Romance of Forgotten Towns"—Paris, "Platonism"—Taylor, "Sappho"—Robinson, and "Roman Private Life"—McDaniel.

The books on the new shelf may be drawn for one week. New books will be added from time to time, and as soon as a book becomes old, it will be placed in the regular shelves.

STATE COLLEGES LIKE DEBATE PLAN

Lawrence Debators Get Warm
Receptions in Town They Visit

According to Prof. Albert Franzke, debate coach, the new system of intercollegiate debating is as well liked by colleges of the state as by Lawrence. Prof. Franzke has based his opinion on statements by coaches at other schools which Lawrence met under the new system.

"Ripon and Carroll are well satisfied with the new system," he said, "and interest has not lessened in the contests. Especially is the audience pleased by the non-decision, open forum meets. The arguments are almost at them instead of at three judges as formerly. The men work just as hard to convince the audience as they did to convince three judges."

Lawrence teams have been welcomed in every town, and in many cases, received invitations to return next season. Lomira and Sheboygan were very anxious to have the debates there next year.

The third series of debates under this system were held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week. Monday the Ripon negative team met the Carroll affirmative at Tomah; Tuesday night, the Carroll negatives met the Lawrence affirmative debaters at Mauston; Wednesday night the Lawrence negative team debated the Ripon affirmative team at Two Rivers.

"We have a family of seven children and every one of them takes Father John's Medicine. We give it to them at the first sign of a cold, and in a couple of days they are entirely well again. Last year my little girl was dangerously ill and the doctors gave her up, but Father John's Medicine brought her back to health. We wouldn't be without it in the house."—(Signed) Mrs. J. Clark, 652 Javerhill St., Lawrence, Mass.

Thousands of mothers have proven that Father John's Medicine is the greatest body builder. Science shows that the reason for this is because the basis for Father John's Medicine has always been the purest cod liver oil, scientifically put together with other ingredients, so that the rich nourishment is easily taken up by those who are weak and run down. 69 years in use.

Sixteen Aids

In Phillips' Dental Magnesia

Magnesia and three other antacids.
Antiseptics—four of them.
Iodine—for the gums.
Cleansers—made of fruit oil.
Polishers—to whiten teeth.
Deodorants—for the breath.

Don't Clean Teeth

Without doing these things, too

You brush teeth to clean them, to whiten them. Why not, at the same time, do everything required?

Science now enables you to do that. Four great organizations have combined to create the utmost in a tooth paste. They have worked with high authorities. And they offer now a dentifrice which gives you all in one.

They call it the "Formula of 1924." All who will may use it. It comprises all the best men know to help your teeth today. So we have adopted that formula for Phillips' Dental Magnesia.

Magnesia is all-important

Nothing compares with magnesia as a tooth application. Magnesia neutralizes acids. It goes wherever acids form, and a touch of magnesia kills them.

Acids are formed by food fermentation, around and between the teeth. They cause tooth decay. Magnesia is the way to fight them. Have it always where those acids form.

We are the makers of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, which dentists have prescribed for 50 years. It is a super-magnesia, but it easily washes away. Now we offer a new form in a tooth paste. It is called Phillips' Dental Magnesia. A concentrated form, made to penetrate between the teeth and stay.

Nothing in all tooth and mouth hygiene is one-tenth so important.

Every help is here

But Phillips' Dental Magnesia combines all other needed helps. It comprises the "Formula of 1924," which four great organizations combined to create. A formula which meets all modern requirements with a single application.

There are four antiseptics, to combat the germs which breed by millions in the mouth. There is iodine, to protect the gums. A fruit-oil cleanser of the highest order. Two polishers which beautify teeth, safely and efficiently. And deodorants, for a purer, sweeter breath.

There are 16 ingredients combined in one application to do everything at once.

You need it tonight

Tonight, unless you use it, acids may attack your teeth. Germs may attack your gums. Use this formula, the greatest all the ages have discovered. Learn the pleasant and complete effects. Feel safe.

Do that at once. It is folly to delay. Your druggist has Phillips' Dental Magnesia in its latest form. Learn what it means, and you will never again depend on old ways of teeth brushing.

Based on Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—the super-magnesia, standard for 50 years with dentists and physicians. At all drug stores.

WILLYS-OVERLAND FINE MOTOR CARS

World's Lowest Priced Four-Door ALL-STEEL Sedan

Revolutionary Advance in Driving Vision

Overland's adoption of all-steel bodies is admittedly one of the most important advances ever made in the low-priced field. Sales of the new Overland all-steel Sedan are literally pyramiding. People are keenly aware of the advantages of steel construction—particularly the greatly increased range of driving vision.

Besides its all-steel body, the Overland Sedan gives you bigger power . . . patented Triplex Springs . . . stronger axles . . . bigger propeller shaft . . . balanced crankshaft . . . bigger brakes . . . disc-type clutch . . . simpler lubrication . . . sliding gear transmission. A very inexpensive car to buy—and a very economical car to run. Extremely easy terms.

ROOT AND PEACE

A tribute to Elihu Root likely to be handed down to posterity was that paid by Mr. Hughes at the Union League club of New York city on the occasion of Mr. Root's eightieth birthday anniversary. Mr. Hughes held the subject of his laudation to be the nation's greatest peace-maker. We think this is a safe estimate if it is confined to the field of practical activity. Great as have been Mr. Root's contributions to the cause of international understanding, we would not place them above those of Woodrow Wilson, whose ideals and aims in behalf of peace are likely to be of more compelling force in future years than those of any other American.

Mr. Root's chief services to the United States and to the world undoubtedly consist of his peace diplomacy and his support of agencies set up to promote peace. Mr. Root's visit to South America was a notable event and did a great deal to improve our relations with Latin-American republics. His adjustment of the school controversy with Japan and negotiation of the "gentlemen's agreement" on immigration were exhibitions of real statecraft. His instructions to the American delegates to the second Hague conference, defining the attitude of the United States on the questions of that meeting, will go down in history as a faithful statement of American peace principles. The influence of the position he there took is still felt, and will continue to be felt until adjudication of international disputes becomes the accepted order.

Mr. Root believed in the purpose and form of the League of Nations. He was one of Mr. Wilson's long-distance collaborators in preparing the League covenant, and offered suggestions for its improvement which were accepted by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Root did not withdraw his support of the League when Mr. Lodge threw the issue into politics, but he continued to indorse it with reservations. He was one of a group of distinguished Republicans who assured the nation in the campaign of 1920 that the election of Mr. Harding would be the surest guarantee of membership in this League or a substitute association of nations.

Mr. Root's greatest concrete service in the cause of peace, however, was in the setting up of the Permanent Court of International Justice. He was the American representative in this important undertaking, and a great deal of the protocol and constitution of the court is the creation of his genius. This achievement alone would raise him to a high rank of statesmanship, and with past performances in the background he has, as Mr. Hughes appropriately puts it, won his place "in our hall of illustrious men who hold the only patent of nobility in this republic. that of worth of character, distinction of attainment and pre-eminence in service."

We cannot all be Elihu Roots. nor Woodrow Wilsons, but the lesson of their lives is unmistakable. Men who serve humanity for humanity's elevation are those who attain lasting fame. Great warriors whose service is in the cause of force and destruction are held in small repute, strong as their soldiery may have been. Men who twist and distort the high principles of peace and humanitarianism to the purposes of politics, like some of those who have been on the stage brightly but briefly in recent years, are the "puny ones" who will soon be forgotten and for whom Mr. Wilson so often expressed his supreme contempt.

AN IMPORTANT BILL

Senator Titus of Fond du Lac announces that he will introduce in the legislature this week a bill, patterned after the Pennsylvania reorganization law, which will abolish outright or through consolidation some twenty-five boards and commissions. It is an important proposal, second only to that of prospective tax legislation.

The besetting sin of Wisconsin's administrative government is its plethora of commissions, boards and inspectors. From tooth-brushes to tombstones we are inspected and re-inspected. There is a man to examine everything we use, have used or ever expect to use. It is an absurd application of bureaucracy to visionary reform and devious politics. We ought to get rid of this excess baggage, the most of which is of no earthly value.

Many of the inspectors are not only incompetent, but don't know what they are in office for, or perhaps it would be fairer to say that they realize that their only real duty is to serve the political powers which give them their soft jobs. Hundreds of thousands of dollars can be saved to the taxpayers of Wisconsin by doing away with this useless and cumbersome machinery, this board of hangers-on. We doubt, however, if Mr. Titus' proposal will get very far. It does not seem to be in the program of the Progressives to render service of this character to the people of Wisconsin.

THE FARMER AND SELF-HELP

John W. Kelly of Baraboo, said to be an authority on the dairying industry, declared in an address at Milwaukee that "the farmer is the cross-word puzzle of business." By this he meant that the farmer lacked in business ability, that he had not acquired the art of selling and that he was a victim, in an economic sense, of his own shortcomings in these respects.

Severe as this comment may appear to be on the surface, it should be taken as friendly and constructive criticism. Undoubtedly there is much truth in what Mr. Kelly says. In every industry there are two vital essentials to success. One is efficient and economic production, and the other is economic and efficient marketing. Distribution is just as much a part of business as is production. Industry not only has to make but it has to sell. There may be some weaknesses in the productive side of agriculture, but there are more weaknesses in marketing.

In manufacturing these problems have been solved and obstacles overcome largely by organization. The selling end of every manufacturing business is fully as extensive and thoroughly organized as is production. Many a manufacturing undertaking has gone down because it could not market what is produced. There was a market for its product, but the art of selling was not mastered.

Certain lines of specialized farming discovered this application of marketing to their business some years ago. Organization and elaborate machinery for marketing have made fruit growers exchanges a success, and nothing else. It is a part of the function of selling to adjust production to demand, to standardize and grade products and to reap the topmost prices. No amount of paternalism on the part of the government or of direct assistance can help agriculture, so long as economic laws are disregarded and so long as the business of selling is not mastered.

When agriculture is stabilized in America and put on a solid prosperous footing, it will be along these lines, and no other. The farmer can be shown how to do these things and can be aided, to a certain degree, by legislation and business cooperation, but in the last analysis self-help is the only help that will count.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

GIMME.

SAY, where is the man who's a smokin' dub, who doesn't belong to the gimme club? Wherever a guy's smokin', it's his habit to have that famous expression, "Say, gimme a match."

He'll take his tobacco out of a bag and load up his pipe or perhaps roll a cig. He's set now to puff but it wouldn't be right to forget that he shortly is beggin' a light.

You really would figure that matches were high and quite out of reach of the everyday guy. But that's not the case for, in truth, they are cheap but seem to be something a fellow can't keep.

It's "gimme" at morning and "gimme" at night. It's "gimme" at noon and "gimme" at night. It's "gimme" for the guy who would smoke. But to the woman he begs off it, far from a pipe.

In the distance, it seems that it works out this way. You may have some matches to last through the day. And then other people will borrow from you until they have got you adorning, too.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM GRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Grady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Grady, in care of this paper.

ACID OR NO ACID.

What is the cause, runs the composite of a thousand questions, of the formation of acid in a person's stomach—and if so, then what's good for it? One of the saddest men I know has practically no acid in his stomach, nor will his stomach form any acid to speak of even under great provocation. Let this poor fellow sniff the aroma of a broiling steak or the most delectable pan of pork and beans you ever uncovered while searching for the cookies in a country cousin's pantry, and his stomach won't produce enough acid to curdle a semicoddled egg. Imagine a person whose mouth doesn't water at the smell of new mown milk fresh from the press and maybe you can appreciate the wretched condition of this chap I speak of. I always think of him and other unhappy creatures in like cases when I hear cantankerous folk complaining of having too much acid in the stomach.

Every healthy individual has an exceedingly sour stomach when his stomach is busy. The contents of the stomach half an hour or so after a meal include about 0.3 per cent of muriatic (hydrochloric) acid, and the gastric juice before dilution with food or water contains about 0.8 per cent of muriatic acid, enough to cause intense waterburn should some of the material accidentally reach up into the esophagus or gullet and reach the throat; or enough to produce heartburn should it merely back up into the esophagus.

An interesting quality about gastric juice is its resistance to putrefaction. A sample of this fluid, with its 0.2 to 0.5 per cent of hydrochloric acid will keep perfectly for months, and that shows that it has marked antiseptic power. Antiseptic, we must remember, means simply the prevention of growth or multiplication of germs. The antiseptic action of the gastric juice, after it leaves the stomach as chyme (gastric juice mixed with food) and enters the intestine, opposes putrefaction there. This is the reason why people with excessive intestinal putrefaction or fermentation do well to eat green or raw onions, which tend to stimulate the secretion of a greater amount of gastric juice and a juice of higher acid content. But my poor friend whose stomach declines to "water" even for fried corn meal mush had better not lay in an abnormal supply of onions, for while onions are powerful they cannot wake the dead.

If space were available here it would be in order to tell many more physiological truths about the gastric juice, but before we go on let us understand clearly that the term gastric is just a highfalutin way of saying stomach. People who imagine it refers to the air they swallow or the gas they raise or don't, need not feel embarrassed if they have misinterpreted the meaning of the word; it is Greek to all of us. Add the suffix itis (crossword hounds please overlook) and you have gastritis, stomach inflammation, which has the accent on the first i, not on the gas nor on the treat.

The muriatic (hydrochloric) acid HCL of the gastric juice is formed from the chlorides of the blood, chief of which is sodium chloride, common salt. If an individual is kept for a few weeks on a salt free diet the gastric juice no longer contains hydrochloric acid. But don't discard salt—you haven't heard the half of it yet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Touch of Neuritis.

What food should I take? I am troubled at times with a touch of neuritis in my arms. (S. M.)

Answer.—What food are you offered? From your letter, which has some initials but not your name signed, one would suspect you had writer's cramp. It is the way of neuritis to trouble the subject "at times" or on "touch". So far as I know, diet has nothing to do with neuritis.

Apples.

To settle a bet . . . (Miss D. M. A.)

Answer.—No, apples are not fattening.

Oily Skin.

Is there any way to correct excessive oiliness of the nose and cheeks? Could a dermatologist do anything? (B. W. C.)

Answer.—Try dabbing on the skin at night some "white lotions"—a dram of zinc sulphate and a dram of sulphurated potassa, shaken up in four ounces of rose water. In some cases of seborrhea, (excessive oily secretion of skin) X-ray treatments are beneficial.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

Monday, Feb. 19, 1900.

John Fischer purchased a house and lot on Packard-st today from John Baer.

C. D. Thompson of this city was elected state secretary of the Epworth league at the convention at Sparta, Saturday.

W. H. Ryan of Quinnesec, Mich., spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Eben Bedford of Sheleton signed a contract with a Philadelphia book concern for a volume on floriculture.

One of the notable society events of the year was to be the dancing party at Odd Fellow hall that evening. The invitations were issued by the Mesdames L. E. Barnes, W. A. Clark, C. S. Dickinson, H. G. Freeman, E. M. Johnson, T. W. Orin, B. Ramsey, E. J. Stansbury, John Stevens, J. C. H. Wells and A. Winslow.

Mrs. Henry Holbrook was to entertain the O. P. B. at a dinner Wednesday evening.

Miss Catherine Hogan entertained a party of friends Friday evening at whist. E. O'Brien, Miss Farrell, Josephine Patten and Edward Vaughn won the prizes.

A comedy drama entitled "The Deacon" was to be presented at Ryan high school Feb. 21. Those mentioned in the cast were O. Jacobs, R. Cunningham, J. Wickesberg, J. Hammel, Adele Ullman, Birdie Ullman, Winnie Ballard, L. Boone, A. Brunner, D. Wunderlich, Elsie Erb, Rose Tense and Elsie Hammel.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Monday, Feb. 15, 1915.

The union high school building in the village of Sheleton, was completely destroyed this afternoon by fire caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove used in the domestic science department. Pupils marched out of the building in perfect order and none were injured.

A terrible typhoid epidemic was sweeping a number of Polish towns around Lodz. This terrible disease was held by the German army and a small group of American doctors was carrying on the fight against the disease alone.

Appleton Motorcycle club was about to abandon its plans for the big state race meet July 4, because of the financial failure of its indoor affiliate at the army last week.

N. E. Nichols, 34, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his son Louis Nichols, town of Ellington. He was a resident of the county for more than half a century.

The marriage of Miss Elsie D. Ruseh of this city and Charles A. McGuire, of Neenah, took place at the Congregational church here Friday evening.

Dan Boland, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Boland, was married at Virginia, Minn., to Miss Tull Morgan of Cloquet, Minn.

World's News
Told In Brief,
Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

The aviation fight in Washington, with Brig. Gen. Mitchell almost alone on one side, the bulk of the army and navy on the other side and congress as referee, is the bitterest scrap the capital has seen in many a day.

Nobody will be surprised if his savage criticism costs him his commission.

Being independently rich, Mitchell probably doesn't care if it does. If thrown out of the army, he promises to run for congress, with aviation as his slogan.

Inasmuch as the service is popular and Mitchell a human dynamo, undoubtedly he would make a strong candidate.

VINDICATED

Out of 77 senators who voted, only six opposed confirming Attorney General Stone as a federal supreme justice.

The six included the Progressive,
Frazier; the semi-Progressive, Norris; the Farmer-Laborites, Shipstead and Johnson of Minnesota, and the Democrats, Heflin and Trammell, who accused Stone of trickery in winning a lawsuit for the J. P. Morgan estate against a former partner of Morgan, J. B. Ownbey, Colorado mining engineer.

Senator Wheeler, whom Stone was accused of persecuting didn't vote, on account of personal prejudices, nor did his lawyer, Senator Walsh.

MONOPOLY?

Winding up his justice department work, Stone announces an inquiry is in progress into charges that an aluminum trust exists.

The nub of this piece of news is that the raw material supply for aluminum making is said to be 50 per cent controlled by the Aluminum Company of America, one of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's concerns.

TRUST BUSTING

Anti-monopoly investigations are going on or are recommended along several other lines also.

The justice department has 50 oil companies and a number of big bank mergers under its microscope.

The federal trade commission is looking into bread prices. It charges a radio monopoly, too.

Senator Ernst has a resolution in congress to probe the tobacco industry. Congressman LaGuardia says there's a baseball trust.

SENATORIAL CURIOSITY

Before Charles B. Warren is confirmed as attorney general, several senators have questions to ask.

Warren's name was mentioned in connection with a congressional inquiry into tariff lobbying by sugar several years ago. The curious senators want more details.

OPIUM

Representatives of all the world's leading powers have been discussing the opium evil, at Geneva, for weeks.

America insisted on the traffic's total suppression. The European nations preferred regulation.

Finally their representatives announced, "Prohibition's failure in America should serve as a warning to the world not to attempt anything so impractical and dangerous."

Upon this S. G. Porter, delegate from the United States, quit in disgust and is on his way home.

STIRRING THINGS UP A BIT

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This office applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Give your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Who was the speaker at the Wilson Memorial service? P. H.

A. He was President Alderman, President of the University of Virginia.

Q. How many nations were represented in the last Olympic games? D. R. L.

A. Forty five nations were represented in the 1924 games by 1,430 athletes.

Q. Who prepares the college board examinations? A. D.

A. College board examinations are prepared by a number of college professors and high school teachers. These people are called examiners and their names can be found in the Annual Report of the Secretary, 1924, College Entrance Board, 431 W. 117th Street, New York City.

Q. When did the Southern Pacific begin to use oil as fuel in locomotives? G. L.

A. The Southern Pacific Railroad Company says that it was in the year 1900 that their company first used oil fuel in locomotives.

Q. Could a man see an object 30 miles out at sea? G. R. M.

A. A person on the beach with his eye about five feet above sea level can see an object floating on the water 2.9 miles away. Should the object have a height of 40 feet it would be visible over 11 miles. A mountain 8,000 feet high should be visible 100 miles provided the air is clear. The higher the object the greater is its visibility, and the higher the observer's eye the wider his range of vision.

Badges Are Given To Girl Scouts

Prizes Also Are Awarded at Meeting to Best Calendar Sellers

Girl scouts who had won merit badges since the last court of awards in May were presented with them at a ceremony in the playhouse of Appleton Womens club Saturday night. The ceremony was private, as the scouts plan to hold a public court later in the spring.

The girls who received badges are: Lucille Kranhold, laundress badge, Lucille Kranhold and Mary Schreier, canners badge; Dorothy Calnin, musician badge; Helen Gilman, homemaker badge; Louise Murphy, swimmer badge.

Miss Betty Meyer was awarded a framed copy of the girl scout laws as a prize for selling the most scout calendars during the campaign. The Beaver troop of the Lincoln school will be given a party Friday night for selling the most calendars of any troop and Miss Grace Sanders' patrol of the Beaver troop was given a prize for selling the most calendars of any patrol.

The patrols that sold the most calendars in each troop also were awarded prizes. They were Miss Mary Gloudeam's patrol of Shamrock troop, Miss Oriene Wetzel's patrol of Clover Leaf troop, Miss Iona Plentia's patrol of the Florence Nightingale troop, Miss Helen Block's patrol of the Bluebell troop, Miss Margaret Keller's patrol of the Morning Glory troop and Miss Alice Frasier's patrol of the Cardinal troop.

Miss Martha Chandler read a story that was of particular interest to scouts. New songs were taught after the ceremony.

Miss Eleanor Halls, scout executive, conducted the court.

CLUB MEETINGS

The cozy at Appleton Womens club was well attended Sunday afternoon. Miss Dorothy Zufeldt, who was to tell of the University of California, was unable to be present because of illness, so games and a social time were held instead. Supper was served by a committee composed of Miss Mildred Barrett, chairman, Miss Elizabeth Bartman, Miss Katherine Keller and Miss Esther Lang.

C. F. Hikers met Sunday afternoon for a hike to the home of Miss Sada Lecker, route 5, where dinner was served at 6 o'clock. The distance covered was four miles. Those making the hike were the Messes Marjaret, Detmann, Neils, Leong, Zimmermann, Marie Voecks and Gertrude Detmann.

Meetings of the Poster, Blackhawk and Freshman Triangle clubs will be held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The Poster club, under the direction of Lawrence Zwicker, will work on show card writing and routine business will occupy the evening for the other clubs.

A business meeting of the Dramatic Workshop of Appleton Womens club will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in the playhouse. Miss Martha Chandler, head of the group, has announced she has asked that all members be present.

The folk dancing class of Appleton Womens club will meet at 7 o'clock Monday night in the playhouse. New members will still be received.

Ukulele club of Appleton Womens club will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night in the clubhouse with Miss Theres Ewell. Miss Ewell has announced that the meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock and will close at 9 o'clock.

Miss Theresa Sonntag, 614 N. Potomant, will be hostess to the U. G. O. club at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Routine business and sewing will take place at this meeting.

Women of Mooseheart Legion, Tuesday Afternoon club will meet at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon in Moose temple. Mrs. J. Heinzl, Mrs. Charles Young and Mrs. Orson Struck are to be hostesses.

Mrs. Emma Casper, 920 N. Morrison st., will be hostess to the Four Leaf Clover club at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Cards will be played.

St. Elizabeth club will meet at 7:30 Monday evening in Catholic home. Mrs. Curless Quinn is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Hugh Garvey, Mrs. John Schneider, Mrs. Robert Schell, Mrs. Frank Glaser, Mrs. Chris Mullen and Mrs. Walter Zwicker.

Columbian club will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening in Columbia hall. The business meeting will be followed by a social.

Emlopa club will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening with Miss Agnes Van Ryzin 815 S. Cherry-st. Miss Alma Prucha will lead the discussion of The Literary Revolution of China. The devotional service will be led by Miss Louise Bucholz.

MISS OLDER'S RECITAL WILL BE HELD TUESDAY

Miss Violet Older, a member of the faculty of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, will be presented in piano recital at 8:20 Tuesday night in Peabody hall. Miss Older has received the degree of bachelor of music and is a pupil of Gladys Yve Brainard. This recital is the one postponed from several weeks ago. The public is invited to attend.

Children Of Moose Enjoy Cupid Party

Thirty-seven little members of the Junior Mooseheart chapter, No. 14, were present at the Valentine party Saturday afternoon in Moose temple. Colonial games were played, the contest being the Whopping down of George Washington's cherry tree. Most of the children appeared in costume, representing Butterflies, Brownies, Clowns, French Baby Dolls, Little Grandmas, and styles from 1864 to the present time. During the afternoon the children exchanged Valentines, Eleanor Henrick acting as postmistress, and George W. Postman. A number of mothers' of the little folk were guests of honor.

Whiten Cloudy Teeth

Under that film on your teeth (run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel it) are the clean, glistening teeth you envy. Combat it this way—see what pretty teeth you have.

IN the United States today, it is estimated that over half a million people a day are cleaning their teeth in a new way. These are people who used to have dull and dingy teeth. That is why you see gleaming teeth wherever your eyes turn.

Now leading dentists tell how to clear up dingy teeth. A method that supplants old type dentifrices — combats, without harsh grit, the stubborn film that covers teeth and makes them ugly.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the prettier, whiter teeth you envy in others. This offers you free a 10 day tube of the way authorities advise combating it. Simply mail the coupon.

The Great Enemy of Teeth Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea.

You can't have prettier whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film. Obtain Pepsodent now. Don't expect the same results from old type dentifrices. Start beautifying your teeth today. Mail the coupon.

PARENTS TOO LAX IN LETTING YOUNG STAY OUT NIGHTS

Generation of Moral Lepers Is Being Developed, Father Kolbe Says in Sermon

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London.—The Rev. Fr. Otto Kolbe, pastor of Most Precious Blood church, preached a sermon Sunday morning on The Younger Generation of Today.

"We take too much care of our children today in some respects and not enough in others," Father Kolbe said. "We are exceedingly careful of the way our children are dressed, careful of what they eat and always looking out for their good health. Years ago, most children did not even have a tooth brush. Today they are sent to the dentists of our cities constantly to keep their teeth in good condition."

But morally, the younger generation of today is sadly neglected. Our young people do things today that they would have been horsewhipped for even thinking about a few years ago. After a hard day's toil, you parents go to sleep at night and dream sweet dreams not knowing or caring where your boys and girls are, all hours of the night, and on into the morning. The members of the younger generation today are fast becoming moral lepers. Of course, there are exceptions, but this applies to the majority. The majority of our high schools at the present time are to blame for a great deal of this. I mean to cast no reflection on our local school by this statement for I am confident that it is one of the exceptions to the rule. We have a conscientious principal and teaching staff, who are doing all they can for the good of our young people. But there are other high schools which are just opposite in this respect, and serve only as a breeding place for vice.

"Our young people today insist on doing just the things they are forbidden to do. Many of our colleges and universities have prohibited smoking by the girls of the institutions. And so the girls smoke secretly because they are forbidden to do so. This is where our young people are to blame. They have no respect for the orders of their superiors."

"In some churches, like our own, we are doing all we can to help the younger generation by our parochial schools. There they are taught the elements of the Christian religion, which urges them to lead clean, decent lives. Other churches are doing this by their press, their newspapers and other periodicals. "It is evident to all that some drastic action must be taken to bring our young people up to the standard where they ought to be. Our young people of today will be our citizens of tomorrow. Let us help them all we can, so that when they take our places, they will find the world to be a decent place to live in."

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Case were given a benefit shower by about 40 of their friends Thursday afternoon.

Fire-side club met with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Toppke Friday evening. Smear was played. Mrs. Leonard Frankbauer and Fred Puerz took high prizes and Mrs. Alvina Frankbauer and Arthur Kloehn received consolation gifts. The club will meet again Friday, Feb. 20, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kloehn.

WARD CENSUS LARGER THAN FIRST REPORTED

New London.—Alterations have been made in the population census of two of the three wards, as compiled last week by Francis Meinhardt under the direction of the finance committee of the city council. The boundaries of the wards were uncertain, and Mr. Meinhardt therefore was unable to tell how far to go in taking the census.

The official report made on Saturday, by Mr. Meinhardt, now gives the first ward 1960 people, the Third, 1207, and the Fourth, 1270.

This provides more than enough residents for the proposed division of these three wards, in order to create three new ones, a Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth, thus giving three more members to the city council, and also three more to the county boards.

THIEF IS CAUGHT STEALING FOWLS

Settlement Is Reached After
John Drews, Fremont, Finds
Man in Coop

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Fremont—John Drews, a farmer living a mile west of town, when going to the barn Monday evening, Feb. 9, to do some chores, noticed his chicken coop door was open slightly although he had closed it. He secured the lantern from his son Leland who had it in the barn and upon investigating caught a Neenah man, former Fremont resident, in the act of depositing in a bag a chicken with its neck wrung off. The man said he intended to get three fowls and that he had been sent in by others, who were evidently the men in a car stopped down the road a short distance. Mr. Drews let the thief go and Tuesday morning a settlement was reached.

Edward Pitt, Leonard Pitt, and Charles Morin, while cutting wood with Arthur Schwartz's sawing outfit Monday afternoon at the latter's place "pinched" the circle saw when in motion. This caused it to break and pieces flew in all directions but none of the men was hit.

Betty Bronson and the pirates in the Herbert Brenon Production of J.M. Barrie's "Peter Pan" A Paramount Picture

AT FISCHERS APPLETON THEATRE FOR FOUR DAYS, BEGINNING MONDAY.

the cast of "Smoldering Fires" Universal-Jewel-Clarence Brown production which will be shown in the Elite theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Pauline Frederick and Laura La Plante are co-starred in the picture which is one of Universal's big offerings for the season 1924-25. Other principals are Malcolm McGregor, fully Marshall, Wanda Hawley, Helen Lynch and George Cooper.

One of the important factors of "Smoldering Fires" is the shop committee consisting of heads of various departments who meet in conference daily with the president of the company, played by Miss Etierick, and her chief clerk, portrayed by Marshall. This committee is composed of the old-time character actors who are: Bert Roach, who played straight roles in "The Abyssal Brute," "The Flit" and other productions besides being a noted comedian both of screen and stage, Billy Gould, of long stage, vaudeville and recent screen experience, William Orlamond, picture player since the foundation of the industry, Rolf Sedan, remembered by his work in several Universal productions starring Miss La Plante, Robert Mack comedian and Frank Newberg.

NOVEL STORY IN NEW BANNER FILM

Local picture playgoers are going to see a pleasing and entertaining society drama decidedly out of the ordinary run, in "The Man Without a Heart," the latest Banner production at New Bijou Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The picture, which was directed by Burton King, is based on the book of the same name by Ruby M. Ayres, the internationally famous author, and deals with the novel situation which develops when a brother tries to save his sister's happiness by kidnapping the girl, whom he believes is about to elope with her husband. An intriguing romance ensues, which comes to a climax in a lonely mountain hut, where the gallant kidnaper and his fair victim have taken refuge.

Director Burton King has gathered eyes are blue and she has a piquant sort of face that lingers in the memory, and tiny hands that never seem to be still—and her name is Betty Bronson.

That's a hasty impression of Paramount's "Peter Pan," selected from a great class of applicants by James M. Barrie, for the title role in the screen version of that author's immortal fantasy.

Miss Bronson was born Nov. 17, 1906, in Trenton, N. J. Soon after Betty was ten she began thinking of the stage and the screen. When she was but fourteen she studied the Russian ballet under the famous Kolin in New York with the idea that a knowledge of dancing might give her an opportunity in motion pictures.

Her first part in pictures was at the Paramount Long Island studio in 1922 when she had a "bit" with Alice Brady in "Anna Ascende." Then came "Java Head," "The Go Getter," "The Great White Way," "Twenty One," with Richard Barthelmess and "His Children's Children." It was just after she had completed a small role in "The Eternal City" that James M. Barrie's production of "Peter Pan," adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck.

Ernest Torrence, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Fane and Anna May Wong are featured with Betty in the cast of the picture.

Miss Bronson's favorite sport is swimming. Her favorite form of more or less genuine exercise is dancing and when she reads, it is usually a book of plays.

Betty Bronson is five feet in height, slightly built, and weighs an even hundred pounds.

$11,500,800 IS TOTAL FIRE LOSS IN STATE IN 1924

Industrial Commission Says Most Fires Could Have Been Prevented

Madison — The industrial commission has put out the grim picture of Wisconsin's fire loss in a bulletin summarizing the destruction of property and loss of life for 1924.

The state's loss constituted $11,500,800, or an average of $115.80 for each of the 100,000 families in the state.

The loss was made up of $1,000,000 for damage to property, $1,000,000 for loss of life, and $9,500,800 for loss of property.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF NEW NUMBERS

Want Common Council to Check
System to Eliminate Errors

Problems created by the introduction of new house numbering system furnished the material for an evening's discussion at the monthly meeting of the Appleton Postoffice association Saturday evening. The meeting was preceded by a supper served in the social rooms of the postoffice.

The system is not yet working as smoothly as might be desired. It was evident. Hundreds of pieces of mail incorrectly addressed are encountered every day. A number of residents are still using the old addresses and evidently have failed to notify their correspondents of the change. A common error is the omission of the directional prefix, such as "North," "East," etc. Another mistake made by a absent-minded persons is the use of the directional prefix with the old house number. Carriers reported that some houses have no numbers attached. Postal employees agreed that as long as both the old and new addresses are being used, especially on magazines, they request those residents who have both the old and new numbers on their homes retain both numbers for a few weeks longer.

Carriers also complained that a number of houses have been assigned wrong numbers, and that an accurate sequence of numbers was missing on some streets. A committee with Postmaster Zuehlke as chairman was appointed a wait upon the common council and ask for a general check-up on all numbers to correct the errors.

AUTOMOBILE HURLS CINDER THROUGH DISPLAY WINDOW

A large cinder thrown from beneath the wheel of a passing automobile punctured the front window of the Appleton Electric Co., 523 W. College-ave, Saturday noon. The car was traveling at a high rate of speed and the driver made no attempt to stop and ascertain the damage, according to Elmer Bleick, manager, who rushed to the front of the store when he heard through the window as nearly as though it were cut with a drill.

SEEK YOUNG MAN TO SAVE VALUABLE LAND FOR HIM

Officials of Lake Worth, Fla., are making one last effort to locate C. A. Christopherson, said to have lived in Appleton, so that he may save a valuable tract of land in or near that city which is about to be sold because taxes are unpaid. It is said the property is worth several thousand dollars and a small payment will save it. Lawrence T. McGee, a lawyer at Lake Worth, has written to J. D. O'Leary here asking him to find Christopherson. He explained that the last heard of the man was three or four years ago when he remitted his taxes on the property from Appleton. Taxes have not been paid since and Christopherson has not been heard from. Mr. O'Leary said that if Christopherson has any friends here they can do him a good turn by telling Mr. O'Leary where Christopherson can be found.

POSTMASTER MILLER SAYS HE IS NOT A DEMOCRAT

Lawrence Miller, postmaster at Hortonville, who is a candidate for reappointment to the position, denied the statement in the Post-Crescent on Saturday that he is a Democrat. He said he has supported Republican principles since he was able to vote and is a Republican. Mr. Miller was appointed postmaster several years ago as a result of a competitive examination in which he secured the highest rating. It is said a strong effort is being made in Hortonville to secure his reappointment this year. The office is being sought by a half dozen or more candidates.

Kate Fritsch, for building an addition to home at 410 W. Foster-st.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour gas, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results. adv.

BUSINESS MEN ACT ON TAX REVISIONS

Business men of Appleton and vicinity are stirred over the vital changes in tax laws proposed by the Wisconsin legislature and a large attendance therefore was expected at the luncheon at Conway hotel Monday noon to discuss this matter. TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. adv.

Real Piano Music—on the Gulbransen

The Gulbransen Registering Piano is an instrument played by music-roll-and-pedals, that you can play in a musical way, with all the expression and feeling you have.

To play what you will—as you will—when you will. To give full rein to all your undeveloped musical talent.

Just think what this means to you who have never learned to play by hand, or having once learned, have not had the time or opportunity to keep in practice! No tedious fingering! No long study!

Just think what the Gulbransen means to that musically-promising daughter—to that growing young son—to live in, and share in, such musical, homebuilding influences.

Real Life Begins With Man's Love

Many a girl who has pursued a man has found out that Nurmil, the Finnish runner, isn't the only man in the world who is quick on the get-away!

The real life of a woman begins the day when she first sets eyes on the man she loves . . . and ends the last time he takes her in his arms.

When a girl makes up her mind on marriage to a certain man it's as inevitable as rain on picnic day.

A woman always knows when she's hopelessly in love with a man by the fact that she wants to "mother" him, and to tell him the sad story of her life, besides!

QUESTIONS-ANSWERS
Dear Miss Grey: I am a stenographer, working for a bachelor 15 years older than myself. He seems to be much interested in me, taking me to shows and parties and giving me lovely gifts of candy and books. There is no reason in the world why this man cannot marry, and yet he never speaks of doing so to me. How can I bring him to the proposing point?—Marian W.

There is no technique, Marian, that a woman can use to make a marrying man out of a confirmed and determined bachelor. It may be, however, that your particular bachelor is not of this type, and that he only wants to be very sure you are the girl he wants to marry. Bide your time, and see.

Dear Miss Grey: I have been out to dinner and to dance several times with my boss, who is a married man. The affair started harmlessly enough, but this man seems to have fallen in love with me, and wants me to quit my job and wait for him while he divorces his wife. Wouldn't this be wrong of me?—L.
You don't need me or anyone else to tell you that such a course would be wrong. Quit your job, but find another one, and stop seeing your present employer. The girl who comes between a man and his wife does a cruel and unfair thing. Imagine yourself in the other woman's place.

FASHION HINTS

TAILORED SUIT

The tailored suit is very smart worn under a heavy topcoat of fur or wool. It usually has a fancy and colorful waistcoat.

NEW GRAY GREEN

There is a new shade of gray green that is extremely popular for spring. It has a certain silver overtones that is most flattering.

BANDS OF LEOPARD

Bands of leopard will be used on spring wraps quite as generally as they have been for winter, and likewise for spring frocks.

PRINTED CHIFFONS

Black printed chiffons and crepes are used to make very lovely lingerie that needs nothing at all in the way of trimming.

UNLINED COATS

Costumes of chiffon or crepe have unlined coats of the same material, banded with very light, fluffy fur.

NEW HANDBAGS

The newest handbags are of plain leather with stripes of black, and they have elegant cases of the same combination as one of the fittings.

YOKES ARE USED

Yokes are seen on many of the newest dresses and overcoats. They should be worn with discretion by the woman who is broad through the shoulders.

LACE GOWNS

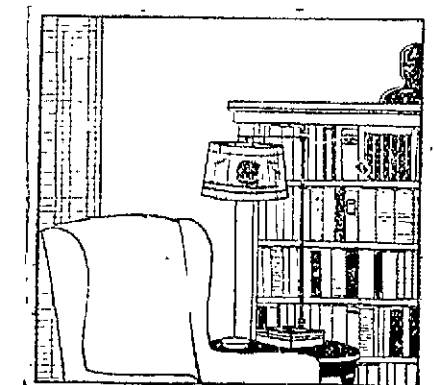

Black lace gowns, relieved by a brilliant color, such as a rose on the shoulder or a floating panel of chiffon or satin, are very smart for restaurant wear.

PRINTED SATINS

Leopard printed satins and velvets are being used for overcoats as well as bandings and trimmings.

How To Make Homes Cozy

BOOKCASE FULL OF COLOR

There's no need of adding any color to the portion of a room where there is a bookcase. The books in it should be so arranged as to afford a brilliant and happy array of color.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN
(A Menu for the Stout and Thin)
EAT AND—
Lose Weight—Gain Weight

One-half cup stewed rhubarb and 1 cup chicken and asparagus soup, 2 tablespoons beet greens with 6 beet marbles, 4 ounces broiled hamburger steak, 1 large baked onion, 1/2 head lettuce with 2 tablespoons diet French dressing, 3 radishes, 2 green olives, 2 crisp pieces gluten toast, 1 bran roll, 1 whole slice whole wheat bread, 1 pint skimmed milk.
Total calories, 1058. Protein, 220; fat, 346; carbohydrate, 453. Iron, .0241 gram.

CHICKEN AND ASPARAGUS SOUP
One 4-pound fowl, 2 medium-sized carrots, 3 stalks celery, 1 medium-sized onion, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cup skimmed milk, 1 cup asparagus tips.
Wash and disjoint chicken. Put in soup kettle with onion, carrots and celery diced. Cover with 7 cups of cold water and bring slowly to the boiling point. Let simmer three or four hours. Add salt at the end of the first half of the cooking. Strain stock and let stand until cool. Remove fat. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk. Add 2 cups chicken stock and reheat. Add cooked asparagus tips and serve very hot.

Total calories, 798. Protein, 233; fat, 311; carbohydrate, 204. Iron, .0151 gram.
This rule is calculated to serve four persons.

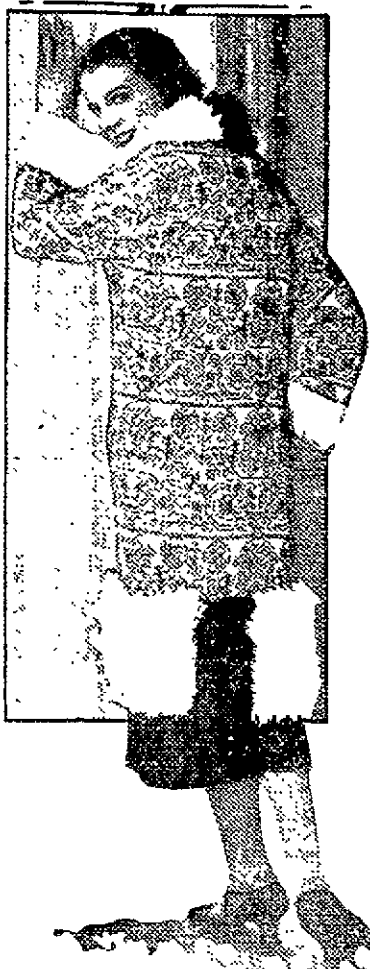

One-half cup stewed rhubarb, 1 cup uncooked cereal with 1 sliced banana, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 cup cream, 2 eggs, scrambled with 2 tablespoons minced ham, 1 cup chicken and asparagus soup, 2 tablespoons beet greens with 6 beet marbles and 2 tablespoons hot orange sauce, 4 tablespoons shrimp and egg salad, 1-6 Washington cream pie with strawberries 1 cup cream of spinach soup, 4 ounces broiled hamburger steak, 4 table-creamers, potatoes, 1 large baked onion with 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 head lettuce with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 3 radishes, 2 ripe olives, 4 tablespoons strawberry Bavarian cream, 2 slices buttered toast, 2 bran rolls, 2 slices whole wheat bread, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 pint whole milk.
Total calories, 3741. Protein, 451; fat, 1568; carbohydrate, 1737. Iron, .0238.

The same soup is used for the gaining menu but 4 tablespoons heavy cream is added before serving. The normal person will find the soup quite rich enough even if it is made with skimmed milk.

If tiny beet were on the greens remove them after cooking and serve in a wreath around the mound of greens. If the beets were good sized, cut in marbles with a French vegetable cutter after cooking and slipping skins and serve the same.

Ripe olives have real food value, as they are rich in fat, while the green ones are merely a condiment.

Sport Coat

This is a smart sport coat that is popular at the European winter resorts on the Mediterranean. It is trimmed with black and white rabbit—a new note in combining furs.

Health Hints

HOW THE BODY EATS

Every man, woman and child should have strong muscles, firm bones, solid teeth, steady nerves and good red blood. Mrs. Mann learned in her first lesson on foods for health.

Fortunately nature brings most children into the world with the power to digest foods with veins and arteries to carry this food to parts of the body, after it is digested.

And the various parts of the body have the power to select the foods needed. Teeth select calcium, muscles select protein, fat, iron, phosphorus, other substances and so on.

Thus if the proper foods are selected by the individual, the parts of the body will take care of themselves.

There should be food for strength, food to build up resistance against disease, food to give a spring to the step and put energy and ambition within.

For these every normal man, woman and child needs milk, vegetables, fruit, cereals and probably fat and eggs. Mrs. Mann learned.

of you. All but the horse, and maybe the giraffe, and perhaps a great big elephant—the elephant, too. For wild elephants are very fierce and kill people!

"The idea said the elephant, 'We never thought of that.'"

"No, we didn't," said the tiger. "I should say not!" declared the lion. "That makes it altogether different," said the giraffe.

"We heartily agree," said the horse. "Whatever my friends do, I do, even if Bobby would still be my friend if I were real."

"What would you do?" asked the Fairy Queen turning to the Twins. "Perhaps they have another wish, you could grant," said Nancy. "Have you?" asked the Fairy Queen.

The animals put their heads together and whispered. "No," said the wooden elephant finally. "We have decided that we like Bobby better than anyone else in the world, and so we'll stay just as we are."

"But I should like to see the big world," sighed the camel. "So should I," sighed the lion. "So should all of us," said all the little wooden animals.

The Fairy Queen laughed. "I have a real surprise for you," she said kindly. "Since you all like children so well, I know exactly what I am going to do."

DREAMS Each Has Its Own Meaning

There have been times when in your dreams you have seen yourself frolicking with a huge crowd on the carnival grounds, or on some merry, 2 carnival spirit at some indoor affair.

Such a dream can be an omen of two things. If you seem to be by yourself in the crowd it is likely that you will soon take a journey to a place where you will make new friends.

If you are with friends, there are pleasant times ahead for you.

INTERPRETATIONS
You will suffer seriously from competition in business if you see yourself unable to get on a graded street car.

The booming of cannon or guns heard in a dream will cause you to awaken. It is a warning that you will have to act quickly to make your plans successful.

Household Hints

GIVE MUCH HEAT

All meats that are stewed and braized should be subjected first to great heat then to gentle simmering.

KEEP FRUIT COOL

It is best not to leave fruit in the dining room between meals. Keep it cool and out of the dust.

AVOID ACID FOODS

Avoid serving acid fruits, particularly oranges or cherries, at the same time you serve milk.

BUTTER SUBSTITUTE

Beef fat, clarified by itself, is a good substitute for butter in shortening bread, biscuits or gingerbread.

BAKED BANANAS

Baked bananas served with a lemon sauce make an unusual dessert.

STRING BEANS

Green string beans should be boiled until tender then drained and placed in a pan with a teaspoon of fine herbs, pepper, salt and lemon juice and two ounces of butter. Hold over the fire until the butter is melted.

COFFEE ICES

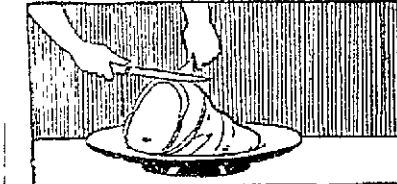

Coffee makes an excellent flavoring for ice cream and for puddings and cake frostings.

ECONOMICAL SALAD

BLUES PLAY SPARKLING GAME TO BEAT COE, 31-14.

Lawrentians Spoil Championship Hope Of Strong Invaders

Championship Hope Of Strong Invaders

Coe Hawks, Doped as Slight Favorites, Play Excellent Game but Lawrence Outlights Them

Playing the most brilliant game of its career, the Lawrence quintet Saturday afternoon rushed the strong Coe five of Cedar Rapids, Ia., off its feet and capped the game, 31 to 14, in Armory G here. The hall was crowded with cheering fans, and the excitement of the fast game kept the air filled with cheers and yells from start to finish. Coe came here with the reputation of being almost invincible, having defeated Benton and St. Paul in successive games immediately preceding its Appleton invasion, and was doped as a slight favorite over Lawrence. The entire middle west was watching the outcome of the contest for the winner is expected to take the championship of the Little Eight.

Lawrence played the smoothest passing game ever seen on a local court and broke through the strong Coe defense almost at will. The Blue had hard luck on most of its shots, however, and time after time the ball bounded off the hoop after a clever attack had brought it within easy striking distance. Coe, on the other hand, succeeded in getting within easy range only twice or three times during the entire contest, and made but three baskets. Two of these were from the middle of the floor, the Iowans showing uncanny accuracy on the long attempts.

Briese and Kotal were unpassable at guard. Ashman at center outjumped his taller opponent almost every time while Heide and Zussman were in the thickest of the fray from start to finish. Heide was "on" with a vengeance and dropped the ball through the hoop eight times from all angles. Zussman made three field goals in his usual form, shooting on a dead run from directly under the basket for two of them, and Ashman dropped his jump enough to cage a brace of long ones. Briese also shot a long one through without touching the hoop.

Coe scored eight of its fourteen points on foulthrows. Stuelke, left guard, made five of these, dropping them through without apparent effort despite the fact that early in the game his face was drenched with blood from a cut in his eyebrow. Tullis, H. Lamb and Brown each scored a basket in the second half. Coe sent in substitutes for every position, but the fresh men were unable to stem the strong Lawrence offense any better than their predecessors, and the Lawrentians appeared just as fresh at the end as they were at the beginning.

FIRST HALF
Neither team was able to score during the first five minutes of play, although the Lawrentians kept "telling easy" shooting distance several times. The Blues tried four or five shots but the ball rebounded from the hoop. Heide made first blood on a freethrow when W. Lamb fouled him, but missed the second shot, and Kotal's freethrow on H. Lamb's foul also went wide.

Then Heide made loose, shooting from almost impossible angles as often as he got the ball. He caught it on the sidelines near the basket, and dropped it through from there. The floor just opposite the center, and sailed it through without touching. Thereafter Coe kept him covered.

The visitors got their first chance to score when Zussman fouled Brown, who made the freethrow. Zussman made up for it however, by dribbling up under the basket and shooting the ball through. Brown followed with a perfect long shot which found the ring, and Tullis got a freethrow when a second foul was called on Zussman.

Heide made loose from his trailers long enough to cage two more long ones in rapid succession and Lawrence was leading, 11 to 4. Then H. Lamb, shooting almost from under the basket, dropped the ball through and Stuelke made a freethrow after Ashman's foul.

Zussman missed a chance for another point when Tullis fouled him, but after Heide made his fifth basket in the game, the Jake cared about just before the half ended, and made it 15 to 17, with the Blues on top.

SECOND HALF
Coe staged a desperate spurt after the intermission and when Heide continued his tactics of shooting from almost anywhere on the floor, caging a long one immediately after the up, they kept him cornered. After Stuelke had made a foulthrow on Zussman's third offense, Tullis broke through for an easy shot. Briese offset this with a long one for Lawrence, and then fouled Stuelke who made one of his two freethrows. Heide again eluded his men and made a short shot after missed two, but shortly after missed two more, after Brown had fouled him. With 12 minutes to go Heide made a brilliant series of passes gave Ashman the ball almost under the basket, and he dropped it through the ring. After Heide and Ashman each had missed a freethrow apiece, Ashman got another chance and took it without flinching.

Tullis made Kotal's foul, and after Heide had made another long shot he followed it with two freethrows on Stuelke's foul. Zussman got in close and added two more points with a perfect shot just

Only one change of importance was recorded Sunday when William Gebhard of Racine rolled into first place in the all events with a total of 1,838. Gebhard's total came as a result of 642 in the doubles, 602 in the team event, and 594 in the singles.

Ernie Keller, also of Racine, rolled into tenth place in the singles.

NEENAH ACES WIN FROM CARDINALS

A last minute basket enabled the Neenah Aces to defeat the Cardinal basketball team of Appleton in a hard fought game Saturday morning in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium by a score of 8 to 6. The teams had battled into a 6 to 6 tie near the start of the second half and all efforts to break the deadlock had failed during the entire half until the winning shot dropped through the net in the closing minute of play. The game was featured by the fine defensive work and close guarding of both teams, which held the players to few tries at the hoop. The Cardinals had been defeated by the Neenah five in a previous game by a score of 11 to 10.

The absence of three regulars handicapped the local boys who were forced to play four men during part of the game. M. Bartz starred for the Cardinals with 2 baskets and 2 free throws. H. Ellis caged the other basket for the losers. Neenah's baskets were contributed by her forwards and center. Negotiations are underway for another game.

COAST ATHLETES ON ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Four athletes from the far west gained places on the All-America college track and field team for 1924. They were Clarence Houser, University of Southern California, in the discus; Glenn Hurlbut, Stanford; shutout; Bill Neufeld, California, javelin; and Morton Kaer, Southern California in the pentathlon.

YDE OF PITTSBURG
Emil Yde, Pittsburgh's stellar south-paw hurler, didn't lose a game to Chicago, Boston or Philadelphia last season. The Giants were the only team he failed to beat.

Before the half ended, and the report of the gun found Lawrence on top, 31 to 14.

The lineup:
Lawrence. R. F. Tullis, Heide, R. F. Tullis, Zussman, L. F. C. H. Lamb, Ashman, C. R. G. Brown, Kotal, R. G. L. G. Stuelke, Biese, L. G. Substitutions—VanHornen for Tullis, Stungis for W. Hills Will Grapple Anderson, Romanoff Will Meet Volkoff

Tuesday's Card Will Be First One in Appleton History With Twin Feature Bout

For the first time in the history of wrestling in Appleton fans of this part of the country will be treated to a double windup Tuesday night in Armory G here. George Hills will meet Andre Anderson of Pittsburg in the final half of the double bill, while Hassan Kolkoff will grapple Young Romanoff of Gary, Ind.

Hills and Volkoff gave an excellent demonstration of their prowess here several weeks ago, so little need be said of their ability. Volkoff has recovered fully from a slight injury received in that match, and was in fine shape when he arrived here Sunday evening.

Andre Anderson, a giant who stands six feet four inches in his socks and tips the scales at 238 pounds, will give the local wrestler a hard tussle. Anderson makes his home in Pittsburg. He was born in Norway and gained most of his knowledge of the game there. He has met some of the best grapplers in the east and south and comes here with a formidable record. Anderson has the advantage of Hills in all physical respects, but Hills' cleverness is expected to offset this.

Volkoff won a host of friends here when he wrestled Hills and is regarded as a slight favorite over Romanoff if he shows up as well as he did against Hills. Romanoff has wrestled before in Appleton, getting a fall from Hills here.

Both matches will go to a finish, with Police Gazette rules in force and a time limit of two hours. The preliminary will start at 8:15. Ladies will be admitted free and the price of admission will not be advanced despite the fact of the double windup.

OAKS AND LIETHEN CROSS CUES MONDAY

H. Liethen and H. Oaks, both of Appleton Monday night will cross cues in the seventh match of the Fox River Valley pocketbilliards championship tournament in the hall here. Oaks has one win to his credit while Liethen lost his first match, and in order to keep a place in the running, Liethen must win Monday.

Both men are going strong, much practice having developed a good stroke, and they are evenly matched. Liethen won the championship of the valley a year ago and expects to repeat.

Recent matches in the tournament have drawn large crowds, and on several occasions fans had to be turned away for lack of room. The match will start at 8:45 Monday evening, no admission is charged.

ILLINI MAINTAIN CLEAN SLATE IN BIG TEN CAGING

Chicago Invasion of Urbana Ends in 19 to 15 Win for Illinois

Chicago—The middle of the season found the University of Illinois basketball squad still unbeaten in their campaign for Western conference honors. The Illini answered two victories during the past week, one over Northwestern, Feb. 12, and one over Chicago, Saturday night.

The Chicago invasion of Urbana Saturday night resulted in one of the fastest games of the season, the lead alternating constantly and until the closing minutes of the game, only one point separating the scores. Illinois, however, by a final rush, scored three baskets for a 19 to 15 win.

Following their 28 to 21 victory over Iowa last Monday, Indiana overcame a four point Michigan lead Saturday night to nose out Wolverines, 29 to 23, in a speedy contest at Ann Arbor. The victory finally eliminates Michigan for the ranks of title contenders.

Ohio State trounced Minnesota, 26 to 10, at Columbus Saturday night in a game marked by rough play on both sides. Ohio led throughout but several times the Gophers threatened to break away with a series of long basket shots.

Purdue overwhelmed Iowa at La Fayette, 35 to 23, in a game in which the Hawkeyes were held scoreless until the final half.

This week Minnesota meets Purdue at LaFayette and Michigan plays Ohio State at Columbus on Monday, Feb. 16. On Tuesday, Feb. 17, Chicago meets Northwestern at Evansville. Friday Purdue meets Michigan at Ann Arbor and on Saturday, Wisconsin plays Illinois at Urbana. Indiana meets Chicago at Chicago and Iowa goes to Minneapolis to play Minneapolis.

1924 PENNSYLVANIA SQUAD WAS ONE OF BEST IN YEARS

Pennsylvania's 1924 football eleven was one of the best the Quaker institution has turned out since the days of Hollenbeck, Kenneth and Powell back around 1908. It wasn't defeated during the regular campaign, though whipped by California in a post-season brush.

Mill Cagers Meet Eastern Cage Champs

Kimberly—Basketball fans of this part of the state Thursday night will have a chance to see the New York Nationals, one of the strongest professional aggregations in the country. The Nationals recently played at Hillbert and completely swamped the All Home team, which previously had defeated some of the best in the state. The easterners are touring the country and playing before capacity crowds wherever they go.

Their appearance at Kimberly probably will be their last in this section of the west, and the Athletics management is making preparations to accommodate the largest crowds of the year.

Kimberly has won 14 out of 20 games thus far this season. They lost their last two contests, but have recovered their old form in practice, and expect to give the Nationals a hard rub.

On Friday, Feb. 20, the Hillbert team plays its last home game. The strong Nash Motors of Milwaukee will furnish the opposition and if reports from Milwaukee are correct the game will be a fitting windup for a hard and successful season.

RIPON BOWS TO CARROLL, 33-15

Superior Team Work Gives Invaders' Victory in Saturday Contest

Waukesha—Carroll college defeated Ripon in a fast game here Saturday night before the largest crowd of the season. The score was 33 to 15. Carroll led at the end of the first half by a score of 18 to 4. Carroll's superior team work carried them to victory.

Both teams missed numerous easy shots. Ripon particularly was guilty of this after working the ball down the court on a dazzling criss-cross passing game. Pope Stohart of Milwaukee acted as referee and Eddie Borgelt, also of Milwaukee, as umpire. The lineups:

CHINESE WARLORDS FORCE FARMERS TO DONATE LARGE SUMS

Closed Schools Suggest Diver- sion of Educational Funds

By Associated Press
Paoingfu, Chihli, China — That the Chinese farmer, already taxed to the limit of his ability to pay, is to be called upon to bear the burden of the recent punitive expedition, is the conclusion forced upon anyone who analyzes the present situation in North China. Closed schools suggest that educational funds are being diverted; income from railroads is being seized, and even taxes for food relief are being "borrowed" to swell the war coffers, but it is plainly to be seen that the farmers, who constitute three-fourths of the population, will be made to provide the bulk of the necessary revenues.

No income tax, for example, has been levied by the warlords to compel private fortunes to contribute, and it is notable that the patriotism of the private citizen does not prompt him to support the cause of the central government. The warlords are, therefore, driven to invention, and they invent one more atrocity.

As always by the closing of markets, interruption of communications and pillaging by soldiers, the farmer is the sufferer. This year his crops have been ruined. He has been hoping for a little relief from the government, perhaps a job on a dyke financed by the flood relief surtaxes but the crops have gone for naught, and the farmer, when he is least able to do so, is asked to support it as never before.

The warlord's first move was gentle one. He proposed to buy crops, but for these he set his own figure which was about half the market price. As the crops came in slowly at this figure each county was asked through its officials to produce a certain amount. Military pressure on the official, official pressure on the farmer, and the trick was done.

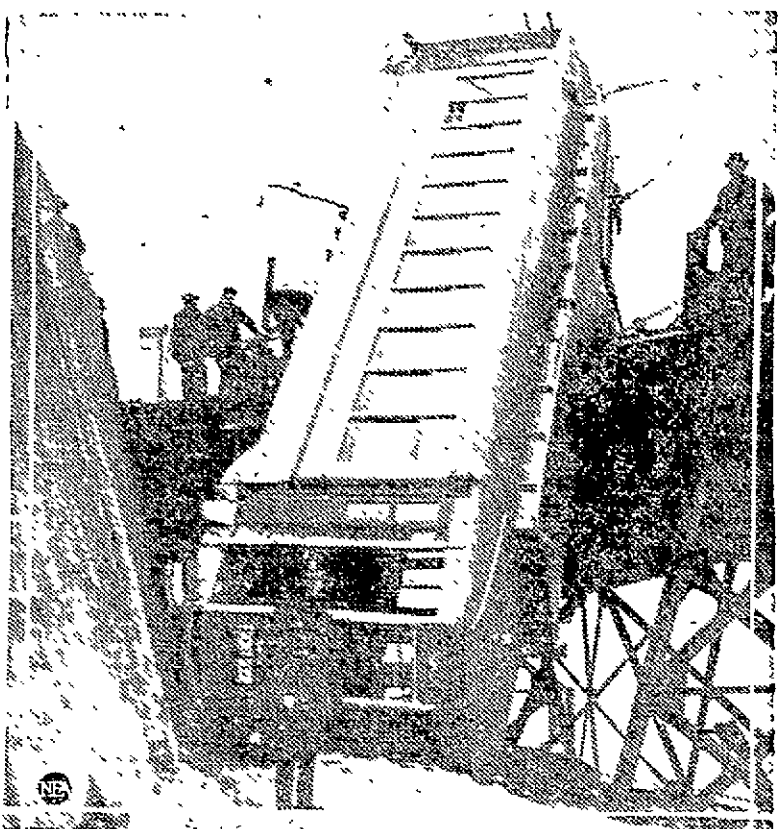

The warlords needed carts, thousands of them. There were munitions to be hauled many miles over trackless country. He turned to the farmer. A telegram to the civil official and the official assessed the county according to its population, anywhere from 100 to 300 carts. The county magistrate in turn assessed each village, according to size, one to six carts.

But the carts were to have animals and the animals drivers. All this was in the military order, but no half price nor half wage was offered. The carts, animals and carters were to be produced in any way that would not cause expense to the warlords. The village head, hesitating to decide how to meet the demands, a favorite method with the village elders was to offer a given sum for volunteers. The actual sum paid in some villages is known to have been $200 to induce a "volunteer" to go to the front with a cart and two animals and it was clearly understood that if cart, animals or driver failed to return the village assume no responsibility. The cost to each village of its cart outfits is usually shared proportionately by the villagers on the basis of acreage owned.

But the warlord still is in need. He wants servants at the front to carry his ammunition and other equipment, to cook his food and to load and unload trains, to bury the dead and to perform other menial labors. The number of coolies demanded was about equal to the number of carters. To the credit of the military it is said that coolies badly hit by the floods have been partially exempted, but the total number of carts demanded from the province of Chihli, with its 128 counties, was approximately 25,000.

In addition it is reported that a contribution of $300,000,000 in cash and silver dollars has been demanded of Chihli province.

A MIRACLE THAT NONE WAS KILLED

When this Passaic N. J. trolley left the trestle over the West Shore R. R. tracks in Jersey City, N. J., it seemed that a miracle was all that saved the 22 passengers from death. As it was, all were hurled in a tangled heap in the front of the car. Most of them were unconscious when dragged out, but recovered quickly after being taken to the hospital, only two being found to have been seriously injured.

MAYA TRIBES HAD FIRST ARITHMETIC SYSTEM IS CLAIM

Ancestors of Aztecs Probably Had Oldest Civilization of World

By Associated Press
Berkeley, Calif. — The Maya tribes of Mexico, ancestors of the Aztecs probably had the oldest civilization in the world and evolved the first system of mathematics, according to Professor A. L. Kroeber, of the University of California, who has just returned from making excavations in Yucatan.

Professor Kroeber said that Maya civilization dated back at least 2,000 years before the time mathematical calculation as used now was first established in India in the fifth century. Some scientists estimate, he added, that the Maya flourished as far back as 5,000 years before the fifth century.

"The Greeks preceded the Romans with a high standard of civilization, so the Mayas preceded the Aztecs in Mexico," he continued. "Buried pottery and ruins of cities of civilization, between 200 and 600 A. D., by a race known as the Mayas, which was copied later by the Aztecs, started a period about which little is known but it may be assumed as the culture of the Mayas was carried to the north from Yucatan into the high plateau country where Mexico City stands."

"The Aztec records cover about two centuries prior to the Spanish conquest. The Aztecs ruled their captive tribes with a high hand, taking from them the tribute which enabled them to build their cities."

Canada's Doing Well
Selling Canned Fruit

By Associated Press
Winnipeg, Canada, has increased its exports of canned fruit and vegetables nearly four times in volume since 1922, according to a bulletin issued by the federal department of agriculture. Shipments in 1924 have totaled 16,697,115 pounds, valued at $1,193,450, compared with 4,475,297 pounds, worth $221,625, two years ago.

The United States was the principal buyer of Canadian canned goods this year, taking about 50 per cent of the export, the remainder going to the United Kingdom, France and Cuba. Total investment in canning plants in the Dominion was $11,500,000.

NOTED MUSICIAN DROPS BATON TO BECOME COMPOSER

William Furtwaengler's Act Rouses Speculation in Germany

Leipzig — Will Wilhelm Furtwaengler, director of the Gewandhaus Orchestra, go down in history as another Beethoven or will his fame be limited to that of a worthy successor to Arthur Nikisch, the late conductor of the Leipzig orchestra? Musical circles all over Europe are debating this question in view of Furtwaengler's decision to limit greatly the number of concerts he will direct outside of Leipzig. It is an open secret that he is busy composing and that musical literature is to be enriched by his first symphony before the concert season of 1924-25 is over.

It took much urging on the part of his friends to persuade Furtwaengler to take this step. He is of a modest, retiring disposition, diffident about his own abilities and hesitant to produce himself as a composer. But those who have seen two minor efforts of his, a "Te Deum" and a string quartet, believe that he has the stuff in him to rank by the side of Beethoven, Brahms and Strauss. Furtwaengler already enjoys the reputation of being one of the most able orchestra conductors in Europe. When he took over the position left vacant by the untimely death of Arthur Nikisch in 1921 everybody was exceedingly critical of him. Nikisch's place was regarded as one that could not be filled. After three years as director of the Leipzig orchestra, however, Furtwaengler has established the reputation of being in every way a worthy successor of Nikisch.

INDIAN AGENT AIMS AT BETTER SERVICE

Annual Report for 1924 Shows Improvement in Con- ditions

By Associated Press
Washington — Unprecedented activity and material progress in all phases of Federal supervision of the affairs of the government's Indian wards were cited in the Board of Indian Commissioners' annual report recently which asked of Congress "sufficient" funds to carry on the intensified Indian service operations. In a review of the settlement of important Indian matters which had been the subject of agitation and controversy for years, the board expressed gratification for the signing by President Coolidge of the Snyder act which conferred United States citizenship upon all non-citizen Indians, numbering some 125,000. "We are of the opinion," the report continued, "that the formal merging of the Indian people into the citizenry of the country is a distinct challenge to the government to intensify its Indian service activities in order to hasten the day when all supervised Indians may safely pass from under supervision to becoming the unadmitted owners of their property, and the equals, in all respects, of all other American citizens."

Among recommendations contained in the report are the granting of more authority for superintendents of Indian reservations in matters which are purely local; the strengthening of the field station service in the Indian bureau, and the continuation of the campaign against tramping and tuberculosis which the Indian service now is conducting.

MOTHER FREED BY BABE'S SMILE

A blue-eyed baby's smile did what a lawyer's eloquence failed to do—free her mother from jail. Mrs. Anna Gustafson of Chicago told neighbors she had found hair in bread purchased at a bakery. The proprietor sued for damages and was awarded $200. Mrs. Gustafson, unable to pay, was remanded to jail for six months. But Baby Gladys flirted outrageously with the judge, waving a dimpled hand and smiling, and the judge permitted the mother to sign her own bond and go home.

It Happens Every Day

THOUGHTS OF A LOST WRIST WATCH—

"This is a little too much. First I had a hard fall on the pavement yesterday and lay there for hours. Then this man came along and picked me up and stuck me in his vest-pocket. It's too much for my Swiss blood.

"I'm not used to this sort of thing at all. My place is on a lady's wrist. My owner and I traveled in the best circles — went everywhere — parties, motor rides, teas, theatres. But you might think I was a $1.50 watch, from the way this fellow treats me.

"I guess my owner will be late for that bridge party tonight. She always used to look at me after dinner and say 'Oh dear—I didn't know it was this late. I must fly!' but she doesn't feel much like going out without me tonight.

"This man has pulled me out of his pocket again. Say! Where are we? This looks familiar. Why, it's my own front door;

"He's rung the bell. Now he's telling the maid that he saw Mrs. Bond's watch advertised in The Post-Crescent and that he's found one that answers the description. I'll say he has! That's me all over! I might have known a Post-Crescent Lost ad would take me home again."

HIGGINS IN RACE FOR WAUPACA-CO SCHOOL POSITION

Gives Evenson, Incumbent, One
Opponent for Reelection
This Spring

Special to the Post-Crescent.
Waupaca—Another candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools is circulating nomination papers. He is F. M. Higgins, grade school principal of the village of Royalton. Mr. Higgins is a young unmarried man and will oppose O. K. Evenson, incumbent, who seeks reelection after his first term in the office.

The state board of control is to send a speaker to Waupaca on request of the Monday Night club. Miss Eliza, both Yerca, director of the juvenile department of the state board has been selected to deliver an address at 8 o'clock Monday night. She will speak of what the work of the board of control is and what is being accomplished. This opportunity to secure firsthand information of the work of this important body, is one which undoubtedly a large number of Waupaca people will use to advantage. A men's chorus will present a few selections under the direction of C. P. Stanley.

The local banks have publicly voiced their disapproval of the system of stock taxation as carried out in the state of Wisconsin. In a signed statement by the Old National bank and the Farmers State bank, they have in part the following to say: "Under the administration of the bank tax law for the past two years, nearly all large banks in offices have obtained a compromise of their stock tax because the city attorneys did not believe the law valid, but the small banks continue to pay taxes under protest until the unfairness of the situation is so glaring that nearly all banks in the state are refusing to pay the stock tax and are only paying real estate tax."

"The small banks in the villages and towns have been the greatest sufferers for the past four years. The large banks which could afford high priced legal advice could get justice in part, but the small banks had to pay the illegal tax or let their communities suffer. This they can no longer do. They are willing to pay what is just and legal, but no more."

At the meeting of Hills and Romanoff next Wednesday night at the armory, ladies are to be admitted free, and there is no advance in price of admission for men and boys. Considerable interest is being manifested in the match between McLaughlin and Huffcutt. A peculiar condition of affairs exists, as each claims the other is afraid.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Shumbeau, Fulton, are the parents of a daughter born Thursday, Feb. 12.

Masons are notified of the annual visit of the grand lecturer at the local lodge Monday afternoon and evening.

Mayor Pruett returned from Madison on Friday. He appeared before a legislative committee in a hearing relative to a state barbers' bill now pending in the legislature.

A. C. C. club met at the home of Mrs. Lubenski, Pine-st., Thursday evening.

Alton Hanson has purchased the Peter Yorkson residence on Shear-st.

Mrs. Pearl Boyce is confined to her home with illness.

Paul Kostuck, formerly of Waupaca now of Weyauwega, spent Thursday in the city.

Miss Lucille Olson, who is attending La Crosse normal, arrived in the city Friday.

Mrs. Theodore Anderson of Joliet, Ill., is a guest of her sisters, Mrs. Henry Christenson and Mrs. L. L. Churchill.

Mrs. Carrie Wheeler returned to her home in Oshkosh after spending the last few days with friends in the city.

E. E. Russell of Ogdensburg was a city visitor Thursday.

Another fine musical program comes from WAHC. James F. Gibson, baritone, starts the show at 7 o'clock, followed by the Synchronophase String Trio at 7:15 and dance music by Judith Roth. Peter De Rose and their jazz band at 8 o'clock. Songs and piano solos are included in this program. At 8:45 Mr. Gibson again takes the air and at 9 o'clock Vander Heide and Charles La Ruffo entertain on the radio audience and from 11 to 1 a special program from WAHC's experimental station 2XN, transmitting on a wave length of 316, concludes the program.

A new radio super-station will go on the air from Chicago shortly, to broadcast national and international programs. The Radiophone Broadcast Corporation, in charge of the new outfit, has been formed by several prominent Chicago business men. The station which will be called WHT will be located in the Wrigley building, will possess 5,000 watt power and cost $200,000 according to George E. Carlson, general manager and former commissioner of electricity for Chicago. Horace Minton, a favorite of KTW's audiences, will be musical director, while Leo Sims of WTAS, will join the KTW staff. William Hale Thomson, "WHT" former mayor of Chicago, is president of the group. Programs will include entertainment, religious, patriotic and educational features of general interest and a staff of nationally known artists will be in charge. Performers will be brought to Chicago from all over the country. The station slogan is "Roost Chicago."
